

Within the at-risk population, telemetry carries the signal — age does not

